Exchange Programs

- Pay ASU tuition at your tuition rate
- Scholarships and financial aid transferable
- Proficiency in a foreign language may be required
- Learn about the local culture

Partnership Programs

- Take classes either directly at Universities or at Study Centers
- Scholarships and financial aid may or may not be transferable
- Proficiency in a foreign language may be required
- Pay a program fee – not ASU tuition
- Excursions, housing, and transportation may be included in program fee

When to study abroad:

For summer programs, students should plan to go the summer after their freshman, sophomore or junior year.

For semester or academic year programs, typically students should plan on going second semester sophomore year or during junior year. Students should ideally have the following courses completed:

ACC 231, ACC 241, CIS 105, ECN 211, ECN 212, MAT 210 (or 270), MAT 211 (or 271), ECN 221

Semester/Year Study Abroad:

Study Abroad for a semester and stay on track for graduation! Students will complete 12-18 credits hours while on a semester program and 24-36 credit hours while on a year program. Students earn ASU resident credit and grades count toward the ASU GPA.

Course taken abroad will depend on students’ major and courses already completed. Please see a study abroad advisor for detailed advisement and help with program selection. Advance planning is highly recommended.
